

Update from Greasby, April 2020

We are holding our Sunday service live at 10.45am via Zoom and we follow (mostly) the service published by the Methodist Church with a sermon by Yangsun every other week and a guest preacher the other weeks and last Sunday we had approximately 35-40 people join in. We also circulate printed copies of the service to as many of those as possible who are unable to access the service on line or via the phone. We also have a midweek get together for a short message from Yangsun, myself or one of our worship leaders.

We are also knitting angels, like the ones at Christmas, as a sign of hope for our villagers to take home some are being knitted in the colours of the rainbow if we have the wool!

Today I received a request from a paramedic in the midlands whose parents live in Greasby asking for one of our angels to hang in her car to remind her when she comes off shift that she is not alone.

- Judith Stelfox